

Individual progress report on group assignment

Functions already implemented and lessons learned

According to the reallocation of the scope I have to implement the two functionalities of this web based system. The first functionality is “creating accounts for users”. The new users who are willing to buy the brass products they have to register the system. I created the registration form for new users to register to the system. From this task how to make a new registration form with the security options.

And also I create the “Home” page and the “About us” page of the web site.

Implementation tools used

To create the website we used the Joomla 3.x version tool. And also we installed the KeyCAPTCHA plugin to improve the security of the registration form.

Work to be completed

To complete the developing task of the web site I have to implement another functionality according to the reallocation of the scope. That is called “the owner has the ability to remove or notify any out dated or out of stock products from the system”. And also I have to improve the “availability” of the system.
